

The Garden

Come with me to the garden of dreams.

See the sun shining on the exquisite flowers, as it gleams.

As the sun sets in the horizon we watch the flowers unfurl.

Decomposers, working away as the snowdrops slowly uncurl.

A garden concealed behind an ivy-covered wall,

Trees standing proud and tall.

Ivy covering the ancient door,

a hidden key that nobody had seen before.

Feel the tranquillity enrapture you,

mesmerising colours, red, green, yellow and blue.

The question now is “would you dare to go in”

The Magical Garden

An oasis of tranquillity, it enraptures you with all of its mysteries.

Beautiful, delicate flowers swaying in the summer breeze.

Enchanting willow trees tipping the pond with their branches.

The beautiful waterfall flowing wildly down from the moor.

A habitat for myriads of insects and animals.

Rabbits nibbling at flowers and the lamb skipping on the grass.

Sitting on the bench, I am admiring the picturesque scenery,

Trees with their intertwined branches swaying in the breeze.

An arch of blueness above me makes it more peaceful and magnificent.

Birds flying up high, showing off their plumage.

Swans swimming elegantly.

All is still and quiet, concealed by the tall walls covered in ivy.

An ancient creaking door but behind it is the SECRET GARDEN.
